Ukraine Drouth Threatens Russia

U.N.R.R.A. Chief Says Rain Must Come Inside Next Two Weeks

Moscow, May 18 (AP)—World grain estimates were revised sharply downward today following a report by Marshall MacDuffie, American chief of the U.N.R.R.A. mission to the Ukrainian Republic, that a prolonged drouth threatened disaster to the grain crop of Russia's great bread basket.

"We have reported to U.N.R.R.A. that unless there is rain within two weeks the effect will be ruinous," MacDuffie disclosed at a press conference here yesterday.

He said the Ukraine's crop prospects would discourage food officials throughout the world, who have been hoping that Russia would produce enough grain to increase its exports and contributions to other countries.

Downs Street Man Sustains Leg Injury in Crash on Clifton Avenue

Four traffic accidents in which one man was injured, but not seriously, and a street light pole on Broadway damaged, were reported to the police department Friday and this morning.

George White of 91 Downs street, reported to the police he suffered a leg injury, when his automobile was in collision with the auto of Julius Chick of East Kingston, on Clifton Avenue Friday evening at 6 o'clock. Both cars were damaged.

Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock an auto driven by Arthur Jackson of Route 1, East Kingston, and a truck operated by Richard Jones of Hinsdale street, collided on Foxhall Avenue, at the intersection of Stephen street. Both cars were damaged.

James A. Amendola of Glasco at 6 o'clock this morning reported that while he was driving on Cedar street his car was in collision with another automobile, and that his rear fender had been damaged. Mr. Amendola furnished the police with the license number of the other car.

This morning at 7 o'clock the street light pole on Broadway, at the head of Staples street, was damaged when it was struck by a truck and trailer of the B. & E. Transportation Co., Inc. of Remond, operated by Harry Cattell of Fairview, N. J.

More Than Third of All Peoples Are Faced With Grimmet Famine

Chicago, May 18 (AP)—More than one-third of the people of the world are faced with the "grimmet spectre of famine in all the history of the world," Herbert Hoover said last night in a nationwide appeal for greater voluntary self-denial to provide food for the famine areas.

Reporting in a nationwide broadcast on his 35,000 mile tour through 25 countries, the former president warned that in most of the hunger-ridden areas covered in his global food survey only a 30-day food supply existed.

"Hunger hangs over the homes of more than 800 million people—over one third of the people of the earth," Hoover declared, adding, "we can save these people from the worst, if we will."

He said the global food study indicated that by piling the needs of hungry nations to a minimum there is a "gap" of 3,600,000 tons between needs and exportable supplies of breadstuffs.

Hoover did not discuss rationing of food, but he proposed two methods: Still more intensive conservation of breadstuffs and fats in North America, and the marketing of every grain of cereal on farms.

Emphasizes Program

He also emphasized the voluntary conservation program outlined by President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, which he urged Americans to eat 40 per cent less wheat products and 20 per cent less fats.

"If we can succeed in persuading every man and woman, every nation to do their utmost, we shall master this famine," the former president said in his address at a famine emergency committee meeting. "And we shall save the lives of hundreds of millions from the greatest jeopardy in all the history of mankind. We shall have saved infinite suffering."

The first applause during his address came when he asserted, "we do not want the American flag flying over the nation-wide breadbasket, therefore we include the enemy countries in our relief."

"Let me say that to keep 500,000 American boys in garrison among starving women and children is unthinkable. It is impossible because, being Americans, they will share their own rations with hungry children; it is impossible because hunger brings the total destruction of all morals; it is impossible because of the danger to American boys of sweeping infectious diseases, which rise with famine."

"It is unthinkable because we do not want our boys machine-gunning famished rioters."

Germans Lost More Than to Russians

American Armies Take 8 Million Men Out of 17,000,000 Under Nazi Arms

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

Berlin, May 18 (AP)—Statistics compiled by the Armed Forces Division of the American military government, with the aid of captured German records, showed today that, counting prisoners, German armed forces lost far more men to the Western Allies during the war than to the Russians.

The figures compiled on the dead and wounded were incomplete, but reckoning the civilian bombing casualties, there was also an indication that the Western forces killed more Germans than did the Russians.

According to captured files of the German bureau for notifying next of kin of casualties, the Wehrmacht had 17,000,000 men under arms, including the airforce, during the war.

Out of this total the American armies alone captured more than 8 million men.

Stalin Refuses Appeal For Famine Participation

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Anglo-American hopes of enlisting Russia in a united fight on world famine received a fresh setback today from the report that Generalissimo Stalin has turned down an appeal from President Truman for Soviet participation.

The Truman-Stalin exchange was reported by a strategically placed official, who declined to be quoted by name, but asserted the Russian reply contended previous Soviet commitments made the American request too late.

Mr. Truman was not content with the reply, according to official reports, and apparently still hopes to get Moscow to reconsider its aloof attitude toward the world food problem.

However, Soviet Commentator Peter Orlov declared in a Moscow radio broadcast today Russia had pledged more than 1,000,000 tons of wheat and corn to Finland, France, Poland and Romania since the surrender of Germany.

"Russia's own food supplies are 'small limited,'" Orlov said.

Showdown Hour Is Near on Rail Strike

Disastrous Tieup Threatened by Rail Strike Set Today

Food Situation, Travel in Nation Will Be Hard Hit by Walkout

Cleveland, May 18 (AP)—Here is the outlook in event a strike by members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers materializes at 4 p. m. today:

Industry, emerging from the effects of a crippling coal strike, would face shutdowns within a week.

Food shortages would develop rapidly, with perishables disappearing from store shelves in a matter of hours.

Travelers would be stranded away from homes.

Buses could handle only a fraction of train passengers.

Trucks could handle only a small percentage of freight.

The nation's mail service would be disrupted.

The strike is called for 4 p. m. Standard Time in each affected area. Thus, a strike will require an overall time of three hours to become effective over the nation.

Not affected in the strike call are troop, hospital and milk trains. Brotherhood officials have instructed their members that so far as their legal right to strike is concerned there is no difference between a mail train or any other train.

Brotherhood members employed on Canadian lines have been instructed to remain in service.

Other Instructions

Other brotherhood instructions: "No man in road service involved in the strike will perform any service after the hour set to strike, unless he already has begun a trip and actually has left the terminal."

"If the train has left the terminal he will complete the trip and deliver the engine and train at the end of the run, or tie-up point x x x. Men in other than road service will leave the service at the appointed time."

The strike involves approximately 250,000 members of the two brotherhoods, including yard men, flag masters, brakemen, flagmen, dining car stewards, switch tenders, baggage men and most of the conductors.

A walkout by trainmen and engineers was expected to affect more than 80,000 employees in the three other "operating brotherhoods"—the conductors, switchmen and freight handlers.

Nation's Economy Faces Tieup, if Walkout Is Observed

New York, May 18 (AP)—Thomas J. Harkins, representative of the Eastern Division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today that "the railroad strike is on" and "any hope of averting it ended when the union leaders left Washington to return to Cleveland."

Harkins made the statement as he began setting up strike headquarters for the brotherhood in a mid-town hotel. He said instructions to all workers in his union in this area would be issued from his offices.

Meanwhile, Wilbur Reed, vice president of the Railroad Trainmen with headquarters in the same hotel, declined to discuss the situation and said all orders would have to come from his union's headquarters in Cleveland.

Zero Hour Approaches

Washington, May 18 (AP)—The zero hour came today for a showdown whether the United States government can keep the nation's vast railroad system operating in the face of a called strike.

In the balance hung the threat of a complete paralysis for the country's economy.

The railroads already were under federal control—seized by order of President Truman—but the big question mark was whether the 250,000 trainmen and engineers involved will continue to work for the government after the strike deadline set for 4 p. m. (Local Standard Time).

Top union leaders insisted the strike will occur on schedule—and that will tie up 227,335 miles of trackage if all the affected trainmen obey the call.

The Office of Defense Transportation, which took over the roads for the government, asserted it expects to keep trains operating, however, although possibly at a "very much reduced" rate if the walkout is effective.

President Truman evidently banked heavily on his personal appeal to trainmen over the heads of their leaders, urging them "to cooperate with the government x x x by remaining on duty."

The trainmen themselves kept the situation in suspense with conflicting indications of their course. Some subordinate union leaders and ordinary members indicated they were sitting tight, pending further word from their national headquarters. Others said the decision is "up to the individuals." Still others anticipated no change in strike plans.

Soft Coal Forgotten

The imminent climax in the rail crisis made the worried capital forget momentarily that the soft coal dispute emergency was still very much on the doorstep. However, negotiations in this controversy were at a week-end standstill with no new developments in the offing.

Government intervention in the rail situation followed this sequence:

Mr. Truman directed government seizure of the roads effective 4 p. m. (E.S.T.) yesterday and today.

Coal Situation Is Still Deadlocked As Truce Nears End

Only Week Left for Men to Work in Mines Under Lewis' Agreement

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Representatives of the government, soft coal mine owners and United Mine Workers gave no indication today that they expected any immediate developments in the deadlocked contract dispute between John L. Lewis and the operators.

With only a week remaining of the truce under which Lewis let U.M.W.'s 400,000 miners return to the pits last Monday, both union and management were standing pat.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators, returned to his home in New York.

Lewis, backed by A.F.L.'s executive council in a resolution yesterday pledging support of 7,000,000 federation members "until victory is won," showed no sign of weakening on his demand for a health and welfare levy at which the operators have balked.

The current United Mine Workers Journal asserted O'Neill had told President Truman May 10 the owners would accept the levy in principle, but that later they made a "complete repudiation" of O'Neill's White House promise.

Mr. Truman, having canceled plans to make a flying week-end visit to his mother's home in Independence, Mo., remained in the capital. However, his Press Secretary, Charles G. Ross said only that "anything could happen any time," and that he did not know whether the President would call O'Neill and Lewis to see him again.

Tens of Thousands Plan Food Demonstration in Tokyo

Tokyo, May 18 (AP)—American troops in the Tokyo-Yokohama area were placed under alert orders as organizers of a mass demonstration claimed that tens of thousands would gather at the Imperial Palace gates tomorrow demanding more food.

A second gathering was planned for Yokohama.

Americans, as is their policy, will not interfere, but will be prepared to protect U.S. property and lives if trouble develops.

Meantime Premier Shigeru Yoshida floundered through another day in a vain attempt to form a cabinet. Several of his choices were reported to have declined positions.

The Diet continued in recess, awaiting completion of the cabinet. As a result of their recent protests against lack of consideration, both the liberal and progressive parties seemed assured of substantial representation in the cabinet. Previously, Yoshida had indicated a preference for experienced bureaucrats.

Tomorrow's demonstration will mark a new high in the growing clamor for food if it follows plans outlined by Communist labor union leaders.

School Bus 'Stop' Is Being Enforced

Other names proposed were: Chaplain, the Rev. Clarence E. Brown; Adjutant, Thomas J. Plunkett; Treasurer, William T. Roedel; Historian, Eugene B. Carey; Athletic Officer, Lawrence Glennon, a former outstanding Kingston High School athlete; Welfare Officer, Charles W. Shultis; Sergeant-at-Arms, Victor J. Osborne, Jr.; Service Officer, Howard C. The report of the nominating committee which included Eugene B. Carey, James R. Murphy, Charles H. Hummer, Jr., Clarence E. Brown and Thomas Bohan was received and will be submitted to the next meeting of the Legion. At the June meeting further nominations from the floor may be made.

On the list as proposed Friday evening is a large number of veterans of World War 2.

Producers Demand, Get Special Session in Protest on Manual of Procedure

Clarity Is Big Issue

State's Chief Veterinary Is Brought Into Local Picture

Embattled Ulster county milk producers and dealers and the Kingston Board of Health effected a compromise agreement on several vital problems affecting the flow of milk into Kingston at a special meeting held this week.

Issues of far-reaching implications for the future of the milk industry in Ulster county precipitated the special session demanded by the producers in protest against the manual of procedure used in the inspection of dairy herds by the local Board of Health.

Alarmed by a steadily increasing defection of raw milk producers in the county, the dealers and producers petitioned the Board of Health for a special hearing to discuss the crisis.

Spokesmen for the dealers pointed out that the number of producers diverting milk from local use had dwindled from 94 to 38 in the past few months. With the situation growing steadily worse the milkmen took definite action to curb further defections and forestall a possible acute milk shortage in Kingston in late summer.

Specific Issues

Specific issues involved were the producers' demands that the manual of procedure affecting physical examination of herds be clarified and that the milk inspector's powers be curbed. Dr. E. J. Crapnell is milk inspector for the Board of Health.

The county producers in a special session prior to the board meeting were reported to have drafted a memorandum demanding the appointment of a new milk inspector, but it could not be learned whether the motion was offered to the board.

Dr. John F. Larkin, local health officer, said following the meeting that a "satisfactory solution" had been reached. The manual of procedure was clarified, he said, and several issues at stake were settled to the satisfaction of both parties.

Graves' Advice Followed

Acting upon the advice of Dr. John Graves, chief veterinarian of the State Health Department, the Board of Health listed the following changes in the manual defining the authority of the milk inspector:

Any certified veterinarian can be called upon by the producer to conduct the annual physical inspection of his herd. (In the past many producers were under the impression that only the milk inspector could conduct the physical.)

The milk inspector cannot arbitrarily reject a herd or animal, as in the past, but must take his findings to Dr. Larkin and the Board of Health for final decision.

Producers whose herds do not come up to par on the physical will not receive automatic suspension. A time limit in which to meet requirements was recommended in such cases.

These three items formed the bone of contention between the milk producers and dealers and the milk inspector's office, Dr. Larkin said. He expressed confidence that an adequate supply of milk for Kingston will be maintained as a result of the agreements reached at the special meeting.

Graves Gives Opinion

Dr. Graves expressed the opinion that the lack of a standard manual of procedure, regarding inspections, was the cause of the misunderstanding between the milk inspector and the producers and dealers.

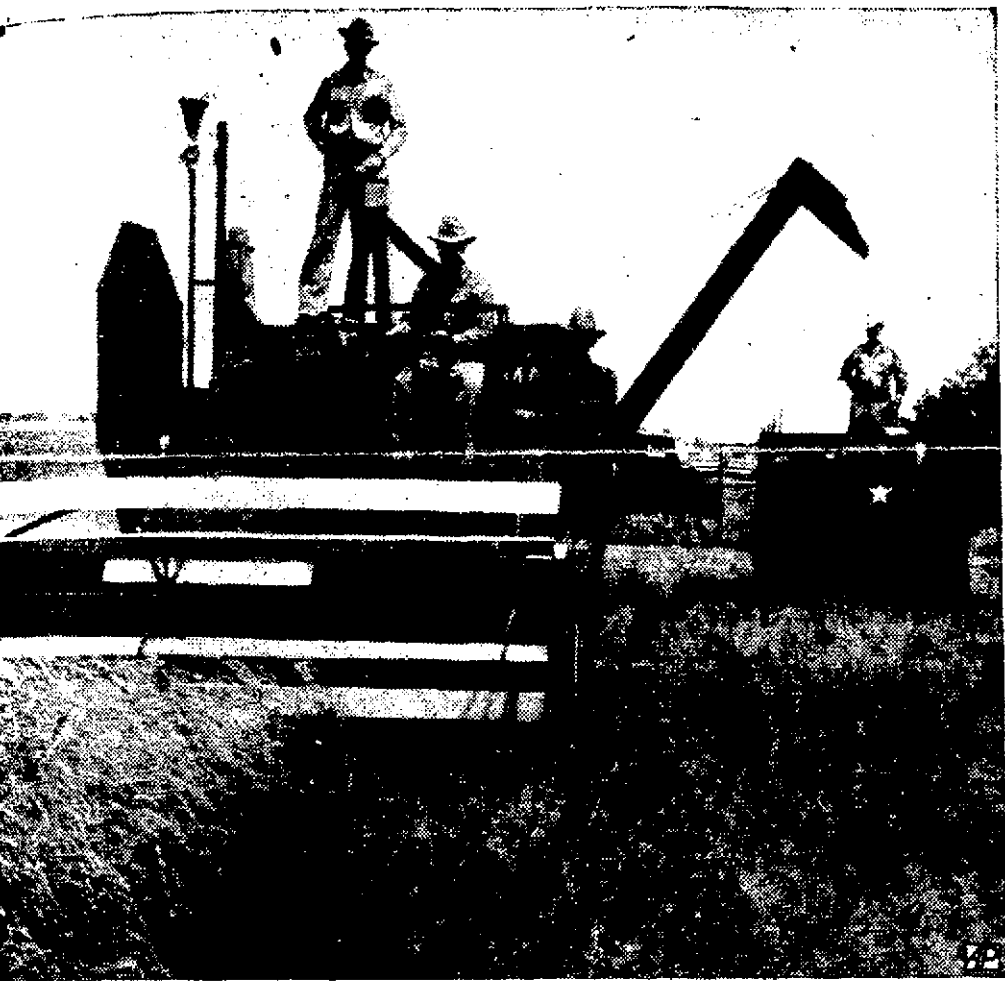

Dr. Larkin's optimism was not shared by all the producers. One of the county's foremost milk producers predicted that the present setup would not work unless the new regulations were rigidly enforced.

"Too much antagonism has been stirred up," the producer said, "and I don't think we'll get back the producers we lost to other markets. We'll have to fight to hold the ones we now have."

Dr. John F. Larkin, local health officer, said following the meeting that a "satisfactory solution" had been reached. The manual of procedure was clarified, he said, and several issues at stake were settled to the satisfaction of both parties.

Graves' Advice Followed

Acting upon the advice of Dr. John F. Graves, chief veterinarian of the State Health Department, the Board of Health listed the following changes in the manual defining the authority of the milk inspector:

Any certified veterinarian can be called upon by the producer to conduct the annual physical inspection of his herd. (In the past many producers were under the impression that only the milk inspector could conduct the physical.)

The milk inspector cannot arbitrarily reject a herd or animal, as in the past, but must take his findings to Dr. Larkin and the Board of Health for final decision.

Producers whose herds do not come up to par on the physical will not receive automatic suspension. A time limit in which to meet requirements was recommended in such cases.

These three items formed the bone of contention between the milk producers and dealers and the milk inspector's office. Dr. Larkin said. He expressed confidence that an adequate supply of milk for Kingston will be maintained as a result of the agreements reached at the special meeting.

Graves Gives Opinion

Dr. Graves expressed the opinion that the lack of a standard manual of procedure, regarding inspections, was the cause of the misunderstanding between the milk inspector and the producers and dealers.

Dr. Larkin's optimism was not shared by all the producers. One of the county's foremost milk producers predicted that the present setup would not work unless the new regulations were rigidly enforced.

"Too much antagonism has been stirred up," the producer said, "and I don't think we'll get back the producers we lost to other markets. We'll have to fight to hold the ones we now have."

Will Take Month

The producer said it would take a month to get the new regulations in effect.

I Am an American Day Observance Sunday, May 19

D. A. R. Requests Local Recognition and Asks That American Flags Be Displayed

On Sunday, May 19, throughout the United States, there will be a national celebration of American citizenship. It will be called "I Am an American Day," and it has been set aside "as a public occasion for the recognition of all who, by coming of age or naturalization, have attained the status of citizenship."

This celebration, first observed in 1939, was called New Citizens Day, and is one of the youngest of United States national holidays. The origin of the holiday offers a fine example of democracy in action. Receptions were held in various communities for new citizens by Americans, who saw an opportunity for a patriotic service. Gradually the idea spread from town to town and from state to state. Communities all over the country were called upon to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies and celebrations. More than 200 communities observed it that first year. The following year Congress passed a resolution requesting the President to issue a proclamation, urging that the day be observed throughout the nation as a public occasion.

The type of celebration varies with the color and complexity of this country of ours, and includes formal addresses by national figures, parades and pageants depicting some of the rights, privileges and opportunities which citizens of the United States enjoy.

"I Am an American Day" provides people of the United States with an ideal opportunity of joining with their neighbors, new citizens and old, foreign-born and native-born, and expressing their faith in the principles of their government. Throughout the country, we can demonstrate that, although the United States is a nation made up of many different lands and origins, we are one united people, all Americans, united in a determination to keep alive and fresh the principles of Democracy upon which the Nation was founded, and will continue to thrive and prosper.

What does it mean to be able to say "I am an American"? Many things, no doubt, to many people. But to those who have thought most deeply and felt most strongly about their country's future, it can only mean the sense of duty, responsibility, and idealism that has made America great and kept it free.

The Daughters of the American Revolution would like to ask for local recognition of this holiday and request that American flags be displayed wherever possible.

Choir Gives Annual Concert With Organ As Main Feature
The annual A Cappella Choir concert at Kingsford High School has become a many Kingston people a requisite part of the concert season. This year should be no exception with the choir doing a number of favorites from other choirs, and, of course, the debut of the Hammond organ. Fortunately for those who were unable to attend last night's performance, the concert will be repeated to night at 8:15 in the high school auditorium.

The choir which is under the direction of Leonard Stine, has 15 voices with several of the returned service men who are attending high school, in the chorus. The parts are quite evenly divided in tone quality this year, and give an impressive performance as they sing the various types of compositions.

Hammond Organ
Naturally, the main attraction is the Hammond organ presented to the school by the choir through funds raised from the annual concert since 1941. Zelma Teague Johnson of New York demonstrated the possibilities of the instrument with two groups of selections showing the range, tone and capability of playing rapid passages. Although producing many tones of distinct beauty and dignity, the electric organ neither is expected to nor does produce tones that can match those of a fine pipe organ. This is most noticeable in "Bells of Aberdour" by Stewart, in which Miss Johnson endeavors to show the Hammond organ's chimes. However, the organ is certainly an asset to the school's music department.

Organ and piano accompaniments are used in the final group sung by the choir. Robert Wolfenstein and Bruce Decker alternate at the organ both doing fine work. Because of installation difficulties, they were only able to rehearse this last week. The tones of the organ last night blended with the voices best in the "Lost Hound" by Sullivan and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, one of the encores. The "Hallelujah" from Beethoven's "Mount of Olives," and the other encore, "Battle Hymn of the Republic," arranged by Ringwald, show the adaptability of the instrument to difficult rapid passages and various sound effects.

The choir also opens the program with a group of sacred numbers, the most inspirational and harmonious is "The Creation" by Willis Richter. Probably the most popular is the second group with the dedication to music and life in "The Music of Life" by Noble Cain; the serenely beautiful "Annie Laurie" arranged by Geoffrey O'Hara and the popular spiritual, "Joshua Fit de Battle ob Jericho," arranged by Noble Cain.

Contemporary Work
Something different from anything sung at former concerts is the surrealistic music of "Prologue" by William Schuman. Footnotes on the program describe the piece as an "outstanding example of the trend in style by contemporary choral composers." Attacks with quick shadings to almost a whisper are notable in producing emphasis.

Five of the soloists sang last night with Miss Valerie Beam, soprano, outstanding, with her interpretation of "Danny Boy." Some of the other soloists demanded more of the singers. They were Richard Baker, tenor, who sang, "Ah, Moon of My Delight," Lehmann; Herman Schwenk, "Shepherd, See Thy Horses' Foaming Mane," speaks; Miss Patricia Keefe, soprano, "The Valley of Laughter," Sanderson; and Miss Katharine Sweeney, contralto, "Joy Is in My Heart," Perry. Miss Ruth Buddenden accompanied the soloists.

Both are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Quilty also is a graduate of Trinity College, Washington, D. C., and Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School. Mr. Quilty attended Boston College until his induction into the army. He recently returned from service and is now associated with the Walter Donnaruma Insurance Agency.

Girls Aren't Worried

Northampton, Mass., May 18 (AP)—Train service isn't going to worry two Smith College girls who have "dates" at West Point tonight. Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

INCORRECT USAGE OF NAMES

Although many mistakes are made in the proper use of names, the following letter has more than the normal quota: "My doctor has three women assistants. He calls them by first names and they sometimes call him 'John' and sometimes when referring to him they say 'The Doctor.' One day he explained to me that they were like one big family. A friend of mine goes to this same doctor and she began calling the women 'Miss Elizabeth' and 'Miss Isabel,' etc. The Doctor she calls 'Dr. Brown.' After that one day, one of the women asked my friend to call her 'Elizabeth,' instead of 'Miss Elizabeth.' My friend is not young and is rather formal anyway so she thinks it is too familiar. She has continued to say 'Miss Elizabeth' which I think is incorrect. What is your opinion?"

From the standpoint of good taste, the doctor and his nurses are making themselves open to criticism. Patients are expected to call him "Dr. Brown" or at least "Doctor" and his nurses "Miss Smith" or "Miss Jones," not "Miss Elizabeth" or "Miss Isabel." That she should call his nurses by their first name is very bad form, but that they should call him "John" is unthinkable!

Thank-You Notes

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there ever an exception to the rule that a thank-you note, written personally by the bride, has to be sent in answer to every wedding present? Most of these were received when it was too late to answer before the wedding. Now that we are home from our wedding trip, I have had to go back to business. With fixing up the house and my "career," it is quite an appalling task to write 150 or more thank-you notes.

Answer: Sorry, no matter how irksome, it is absolutely necessary that you write a note to each (or at least make your verbal thanks emphatic). People in very deep mourning are forgiven readily for not writing notes of thanks but one who is supposed to have found happiness hardly can have an excuse for showing no appreciation for the generosity of her friends.

Introducing Frequent Speaker

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me how to introduce a speaker at our club who is a frequent guest and whom everyone knows because of this fact?

Answer: You say, "It gives me great pleasure to introduce again Mrs. Jones," etc.

Do you know the correct form for a thank-you letter? Send for Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Model Notes," in care of "The Kingston Daily Freeman," P.O. Box 99, Station 1, New York 19, N. Y., and enclose a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Third Ward Tablet Will Remain at Same Locale

At a meeting recently of the Third Ward Service Tablet Committee, which includes the former Air Raid Sector Wardens, it was voted to retain the tablet at its present locale for the next year or so, instead of removing it to Hutton Park.

Those concerned with the tablet decided that it should remain at its present ideal location on the corner of Foxhall avenue and Prince street.

It was also suggested at the meeting that additional names be placed on the tablet, and that it be cleaned and the grass cut for Memorial Day. Names of men in service that belong on the tablet may be given to Clarence Hyde, telephone 4329-J.

Anyone who would like to help put the tablet and site in condition for Memorial Day is asked to report with the committee on Monday evening.

D. A. R. Requests Local Recognition and Asks That American Flags Be Displayed

On Sunday, May 19, throughout the United States, there will be a national celebration of American citizenship. It will be called "I Am an American Day," and it has been set aside as a public occasion for the recognition of all who, by coming of age or naturalization, have become citizens of this country.

This celebration first observed in 1939, was called New Citizens Day, and is one of the youngest of the United States' national holidays. The origin of this holiday is an example of democracy in action. Resolutions were introduced in various communities for a celebration by Americans who saw an opportunity for a patriotic service.

Gradually the idea spread from town to town and from state to state. Communities all over the country were called upon to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies and celebrations. More than 200 communities observed it that first year. The following year Congress passed a resolution requesting the President to issue annually an "I Am an American Day" proclamation, urging that the day be observed throughout the nation as a public occasion.

The type of celebration varies with the color and complexity of this country of ours, and includes formal addresses, national features, parades and pageants, picnics and other opportunities which citizens of the United States enjoy.

"I Am an American Day" provides people of the United States with an ideal opportunity of joining with their neighbors, new citizens and old, foreign-born and native-born, and expressing their faith in the principles of their government. Throughout this country, we can demonstrate that, although the United States is a nation made up of many different lands and origins, we are one united people, all Americans, united in a determination to keep alive and fresh the principles of Democracy upon which the Nation was founded, and will continue to thrive and prosper.

What does it mean to be able to say "I am an American"? Many things, no doubt, to many people. But to those who have thought

Most deeply and felt most strongly about their country's future, it can only mean the sense of duty, responsibility, and idealism that has made America great and kept it free.

The Daughters of the American Revolution would like to ask for local recognition of this holiday and request that American flags be displayed wherever possible.

100 MILLION STARVING

The hands of millions in Europe's famine areas are outstretched for food—food that isn't there, according to a report from the League of Red Cross Societies.

"Give us this day our daily bread . . ."
The beseeching words of an age-old prayer roll easily from the tongues of millions of Americans.

In other parts of the world today, those words or their equivalent tumble not from the lips, but from the heart, as hungry people cry for food.

All over Europe and in the Far East, the spectres of famine and pestilence are daily becoming less shadowy, more of a reality.

Tuberculosis, due mainly to undernourishment, is spreading.

The whole problem is one that exceeds the most horrible nightmare.

Residents of the City of Kingston and the townships throughout Ulster County can join other Americans in helping to alleviate this terrible suffering by contributing canned food or money to the local Emergency Food Collection. The food may be sent to the local schools, which are being used as depositories under the direction of Raymond H. Rignall.

Contributions of money may be sent Harold V. Clayton, State of New York National Bank.

FOOD RATIONING

With cereal shipments 65 per cent below U.N.R.R.A.'s commitments, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson asked a ten per cent cut in big production. Grain supplies will not be large enough to feed the present number of pigs raised, and supply the famine areas also, he said. Only 49,000 tons of the 160,000 tons promised, were shipped last week, forcing the Austrian government to reduce food rations in Vienna to 967 calories daily, or about half the desired minimum ration.

Further drastic American food curtailment was urged, at the same time, by a group of 100 prominent citizens, headed by U. N. R. R. A.'s former director Herbert H. Lehman. This group, influenced by Herbert Hoover's report of overseas food situations, wants President Truman to restore home food rationing, and double the export of grain abroad.

However irksome food rationing is to the American people, it cannot be denied that some plan of over-all national food rationing in the long run is easier than the present peaks and depths and uncertainties of supplies. Food rationing is a subject that is to be in the news increasingly within the next few weeks, as many food authorities believe it is the only means of meeting famine needs.

HISTORIC HISCOCKS

Forty-six years as trustee of a major university must be somewhere near a record. This is the record made by Frank H. Hiscock, now retiring from the board of Cornell University. Before that he was for many years a member of the Court of Appeals, New York's highest court, part of the time as chief justice.

The Hiscock family has achieved fame in New York before. A namesake was United States senator from 1887 to 1893, and a dark horse candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1888. He might have been named but for an unfortunate speech, in which he said that the Republicans need not care about the Northwest if only they carried New York. That was as unpardonable then as it would be now.

It doesn't pay in the long run to put class and group welfare ahead of all-round patriotism.

ECONOMY IN CONGRESS

Prominent among Congressional economy preachers is Virginia's democratic senator, Harry Byrd. He advocates a ceiling on government employees whose number he would like to see cut to 1,650,000 by next year. This is considerably more than in 1939, but 2,000,000 less than in wartime. He wants also reorganization of government agencies

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

A SLICE OF BREAD

It ought to mean something to an American that his country is asking for no booty. Maybe it is sentimentality. Maybe it would be good business to strip the countries we occupy, to destroy the economy of the people, to move out foodstuffs. But we do not do that. The Morgenthau Plan proposed that we should, at any rate, for Germany, reduce that country to the lowest standards of living of Europe. But we have not done that even in our zone in Germany. We have not done it in Japan. We have not done it anywhere.

We fight but do not steal. Genghis Khan is not our model. We, the capitalists, continue to give. Maybe it is smarter to take than to give, but it goes against our grain to be that smart. We cannot pick the bones of starving people—even if those people were our opponents in war. We defeat but we do not conquer; we can deliver a knock-out blow and shake hands afterwards.

And that leads to the phenomenon of Herbert Hoover. On August 10, he will be 72 years old. He has just circumnavigated the earth in an Army transport plane. He was called to serve, and age notwithstanding, he entered upon a mission of love and service. He has visited every country in Europe and Asia where children starve and he has brought the hope of a slice of bread and a bowl of soup. Maybe he only offered a hope—but that is more than these big-eyed, hungry infants dared to dream possible.

And having brought back facts and figures, he enters upon another mission and ordeal. He becomes the beggar, the universal beggar. He begs of us a slight forbearance, a slight reduction of waste, a slight sacrifice of a surfeited appetite. And then again, he will fly through the air to South American countries to beg them to save the descendants of their European forbears from starvation. He will succeed in South America. He will succeed in the Argentine. For Hoover employs no authority but pity, no power but charity, no claim but love. And no civilized person can resist pity, charity and love.

These missions of Herbert Hoover may shorten his days. He comes of a Quaker breed that never believed war right; yet always went to war to serve its victims. The Quaker could not withhold a broadcast from a woman or child who happened to be born in the wrong country at the wrong time, nor could it ask a babe the nature of its political affiliations. The Quaker gives; he does not mix politics and charity. He does not ask a return.

And so, Herbert Hoover, American, spends his old age fighting death by starvation. What a blessed old age for any man! What a blessing is a country that in a few months forgets hatred and feeds its enemies!

Maybe all this is sentimental emotionalism to the materialistic dilettante who reasons only from "scientific" facts, but we Americans are not "scientific." We are traditionalists—and our traditions are based upon such expressions of the human spirit as the Ten Commandments, the Psalms, the struggles of Job with truth, the Beatitudes of Jesus Christ.

Who can say that we are wrong? Certainly not the little boy who is puzzled by the pangs of a gnawing hunger, by the soft bones of rickets, by the parched mouth of bitterness. That child cannot understand that he is a warring power and that the peace-loving nations are taking it out on him. Nor can he understand that democracy demands that he should live his years with a warped brain and a twisted soul.

Nor can any American, really. If Herbert Hoover has accomplished nothing else that is noteworthy in his long life, this he has done: He has, in the years when his head is grey and the bones grow weary, when most men retire, to peace and repose, become to all who are hungry and helpless the American messenger of the God of pity, charity, and love. America's answer to the cry of the hungry is still—Love thy neighbor—even thy enemy—as thyself.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act) RHEUMATISM

Some months ago I spoke of the various causes of rheumatism, the various methods of treatment and of the various specialists in medicine who may be needed to give relief or bring about a cure. These specialists in addition to the family physician were dentists, X-ray experts, ear, nose and throat specialists, food research workers, general surgeons, orthopedic surgeons, physiotherapists (massage, baths, heat, electricity) and others.

However one of the first things a medical student learns and it is the same as with an expert motor mechanic, is to look for the commonest causes of any disorder or disturbance first. Thus if the motor of a car stops the expert looks at the gas feed or the electric equipment and in rheumatism the physician first looks for infection—teeth, tonsils, sinuses, gums. While all cases of rheumatism are not caused by infection nevertheless infection is the "commonest" cause. Further, while other causes—food, injuries, cold and dampness, emotional disturbances—may start rheumatic symptoms, infection can, and does, make them worse.

Thus one of the first specialists often consulted is the orthopedic specialist as he is well fitted to detect injuries to bones and joints and the effects of rheumatism on these structures. The X-rays show condition of joints.

The food specialist—nutritionist—may not be consulted, because the main point in diet treatment of rheumatism is to cut down on starch foods—potatoes, sugar, bread.

What often is necessary aside from nourishing food is more iron and calcium in the diet found in beans, eggs, figs, whole wheat bread, green vegetables, bran, and molasses. As pain must be kept under control to spare the nerves and general strength of the patient the most effective remedy is acetyl salicylic acid—Aspirin—about 10 grains every four hours.

Massive doses of vitamin D help a great many cases and treatment by gold though often hard on the patient and attended in some cases by serious reactions certainly seems to help where other treatments fail. Many physicians report good results with vaccines and make it a part of their routine treatment for rheumatism. The most comforting and morale building treatment is physical therapy. Heat in any and all forms, hot and cold baths together with light massage stimulate the circulation and remove waste products from joints and end muscles. Heat and massage in addition to stimulating the circulation remove spasm of muscles thus relieving pain.

Sufferers with chronic rheumatism and arthritis will find many helpful suggestions as to diet, heat, massage, and other aids in Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis". "At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Times certainly do change in Kingston, which fact is recalled in glancing through some old clippings I have, one of them showing a picture of the Victory Arch that was erected on Broadway between the high school and the city hall, to honor the boys who served in the first World War.

I have heard no mention made this year of erecting a similar arch to the veterans of World War 2, and as far as I know, no plans have been made to give the boys a rousing welcome home.

The Victory Arch erected in 1919, and later taken down, was the third arch erected across Broadway. In 1865 there was a large arch erected on Broadway—then Union avenue—at St. James street, in honor of the return of the gallant 120th Regiment from the Civil War. On top of the arch was a big eagle in which there was a live eagle.

The second arch was the one erected on Broadway in front of the city hall when the members of the Fourteenth Separate Company returned from the Spanish-American War. The soldiers were welcomed at the Rhinecliff ferry shed on Ferry street where the line of march formed. The parade proceeded up Broadway under the Welcome Arch in front of the city hall. The Kingston High School had not yet been erected. The parade disbanded at the armory, now the municipal auditorium.

The third and last arch was the Victory Arch which was erected in 1919 on practically the same site as the one built in 1898. The 1919 Victory Arch bore the inscription "Welcome Home." It remained standing for some time until it was finally taken down. I recall that April 1, 1919, when the boys of 1918 marched in the biggest parade in the city's history. The opening paragraphs of the story The Freeman carried in its account of the parade read: "Here they come," was the magic message that unlocked the swelling chords in the thousands of throats of those who lined the streets Tuesday afternoon, and as our boys—Ulster's own—swung past it was to the accompaniment of the deafening crash of cheers, yells and the wild and energetic use of every conceivable sort of noise maker in the hands of the crowded ranks of humanity.

"As division after division of the biggest parade that ever passed through Kingston's streets marched under the Victory Arch on Broadway they were greeted with the applause of the crowded grandstands on either side of the street, which increased in volume as the boys of '61 passed by in automobiles, and gradually rose in crescendo until it crashed forth into one tremendous finale as the boys of 1918 swept into view." The Freeman story ran several columns on the front page and told of the turkey dinner that was served the veterans of 1918 at the close of the parade in the old armory on Broadway, when the boys were entertained with a vaudeville show, which was followed by a dance in the armory in the evening.

Not only was the Welcome Home parade in 1919 the biggest in the history of the city, but it was viewed by the largest crowd that had ever assembled and Broadway for the entire distance of the line of march was a seething mass of humanity, which had turned out to pay its respects to the boys who came marching home from World War 1.

WHAT IT MEANS

The Wrangle Over Peace

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.

Failure of lengthy negotiations to break down even the lesser barriers to European peace makes it appear more and more strongly that, whatever the next steps, little can be accomplished until the great powers make up their minds about what they want to do with Germany.

Devastated, eating from the hand of charity, the Reich still remains the disturbing center around which beat the frothing tides of other disagreements.

Some official observers of the London and Paris conference are now convinced that a major objective of Russian diplomacy is time—time to watch political developments in Europe, time to judge whether she should sit tight along her present lines of "influence," dividing Germany and Europe down the middle, or whether she should try for a Germany, restored and whole, which she might ultimately dominate.

Analyzing Motives

In this at least one factor is an apparent Russian fear that if she does not control Germany as a buffer, the British will.

Actually, it is probably nearer the truth to figure that the British, determined that Russia shall accomplish no such purpose, are yet under no illusion that they could control a new Germany themselves and therefore are following more nearly the American line of preventing any resurrection. Britain can be expected to use whatever holds are necessary to preserve herself, in peace as in war, but it is hardly likely that there will ever be a revival of that portion of 1935 political thought which envisioned the resurgence of the German military as a buffer between western Europe and Communism. Not even to prevent the overflow of the tide of Communist-social democratic cooperation from behind the Soviet demarcation line which General McNamery recently described as threatening an ultimate one-party rule or dictatorship in Germany.

As a matter of fact, few of the issues over which the powers have divided so far appear worth the candle. It may be that some of them are being kept alive only for their bargaining value.

France's Stake

Typical of the issues which depend for settlement on an establishment of policy with regard to Germany is the French proposal regarding the Ruhr and Rhine land.

It appears that France, while proposing international control of the Ruhr, is playing again with the idea of a buffer republic on the left bank of the Rhine, an idea which was killed then by British opposition.

While the French have been rather vague in preliminary discussions, the gist of their proposals seems to be:

1.—Political separation of the industrial Ruhr from Germany, with international control by involved—France, Britain, Holland and Belgium. This is politically important because all the great powers would have to agree, and no one with ideas about controlling a revived Germany would not agree, nor have they discussed. Diplomats in the two capitals say Russian agreement would depend on whether or not they see it, any such agreement would indicate Moscow's greater interest in helping a hard-pressed Communist movement in France than in a "whole Germany."

2.—The Rhineland would also be separated from Germany politically, but would be administered by Germany under French or French, Belgian and Dutch occupation, with the possibility of this possibility being an important point—of becoming eventually a separate country. (The reports which came from Germany last year that German industrialists had collected a propaganda fund to be used to convince the Allies that an industrial "buffer state" would be just the solution.)

The United States and Britain haven't yet agreed to this proposal, either, and the attitude of Russia is unknown. The farther the U. S. and Britain have gone in considering the possibility of leaving industrial areas controlled under an international economic administration. Here is elsewhere establishment of definite policies is difficult until they learn what Russia intends to press for in Germany.

Henhawk Is Killed
By Sundown Dog

Blaine Wright of Napanoch, in Kingston for the Grand Jurors Association dinner this week, told a story of a dog that attacked and killed a large henhawk that had pounced upon a hen in the yard of a Sundown home recently.

The family of Louis Deput were eating their noonday meal when they saw the big hawk swoop down on a hen that had been scratching around in the yard nearby. They thought the hawk was a goner, sure, but just as the hawk struck its prey the dog, "Nippy," struck the hawk and killed it. The hen escaped serious damage.

Nippy had been lying near the porch and evidently saw the hawk as it swooped down. The hawk, intent on its victim, didn't see the dog, which probably was a lucky thing for Nippy.

The first capital of the state of New York was Kingston.

8,000,000, according to Col. H. J. Lemley, statistician for the U. S. Armed Forces Division.

In addition to this, the British, in a recent report made to the Allied Control Council, disclosed they had bagged 2,663,000, while the French took another 35,000 German prisoners.

Thus, the Western Allies captured, or accepted the capture of nearly 60 per cent of the German army. Lemley pointed out, however, that many thousands of German soldiers fled westward into Allied captivity rather than surrender to the Russians.

There is no accurate figure on the number of German soldiers killed. The Wehrmacht's known dead, according to American records, total more than 2,250,000, with another 1,500,000 missing.

This figure, however, is incomplete for several reasons. When the Americans captured the German Registration Bureau, they found it had broken down in November, 1944, and it was behind by 1,000,000 deaths in its task of notifying the next of kin. Furthermore the bureau could not supply an official estimate of German losses on the eastern front.

The bureau's file on eastern front casualties was sketchy, gathered from scattered sources, because the Russians did not report them through the International Red Cross.

at least a month before the effects of the revision of policy could be determined. Meanwhile, he said, county producers and dealers viewed the growing alarm. "We can't afford to lose many more big producers," a prominent local dealer observed. "If the campaign to win back some of the dairies doesn't work, we may be in a tough spot later in the summer. The responsibility is pretty heavy on both sides and I hope that the new policy will be acceptable to everyone concerned."

"I hope the differences between the milk inspector's office and the producers have been straightened out. If both sides adhere faithfully to the new rules, we can avert a milk shortage in Kingston."

Army to Spend Million

Albuquerque, N. M., May 18 (AP)—War Department directives for $1,000,000 additional construction at the White Sands Proving Grounds, southeastern New Mexico site of German V-2 rocket tests, were received today by the District U. S. Engineer. Last week during first tests of the V-2 rockets, the War Department hinted it was planning to build rockets weighing 150 tons, nearly a dozen times the size of the V-2. The formal announcement of the expansion gave no idea of its purpose.

California Miner
Trapped in Shaft

Desert Center, Calif., May 18 (AP)—Miner friends of Harold Goode, 35-year-old magnesite miner trapped or buried since Thursday in Old Mission mine when a shaft collapsed 300 feet underground, continue feverish efforts today to reach him.

It was not known what chance there was for rescue because miners did not know how far down Goode had been trapped when muck gave way under the shaft. Sheriff's deputies said the workmen held little hope he would be alive.

Goode is unmarried. The mine, operated by the Nevada Magnesite Company, is located in the isolated Pinto Basin area north of here.

Hairdressers to Join
State, National Bodies

At a largely attended meeting of the Ulster-Greene County Hairdressers Association in the municipal building, Saugerties, this week, the organization voted to affiliate with the New York State and National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Mrs. John A. Martin of Saugerties, secretary of the Ulster-Greene Association reported many new members signed in the organization, which she said "is well on its way to its goal for the betterment and improvement of those engaged in the profession."

Shop owners were present from Catskill, New Paltz, Kingston, Port Ewen, Rosendale, Pannersville, Athens, Glasco and Saugerties.

Draft Lists Are Called

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Selective service boards began calling their lists of childless men 26 through 29 years old today to meet the service board's plan, resulting from a congressional ban on teen-age inductions. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the selective service director, told the boards to call up for pre-induction physical examinations men in the late-20 bracket who "may qualify for military service under existing physical and occupational standards." He directed that men who have been discharged for mthe armed forces and any with "manifest" physical disabilities be exempted from the call. The others may be classified 1-A unless they can obtain occupational deferment.

Commission Is at Tabriz

Tehran, May 18 (AP)—An Iranian central government commission reached Tabriz, capital of the self-proclaimed autonomous government of Azerbaijan province, by plane yesterday to investigate the withdrawal of Soviet troops. The commission also is expected to renew talks with separatist leaders relative to return of Azerbaijan province to central government control. The same plane carried Joseph C. Goodwin, Associated Press correspondent, the first American newspaperman to be allowed to enter Azerbaijan during the four years of Soviet occupation and six months of separatist rule.

Ukraine Drouth
Threatens Russia

President Truman that Russia work with the United States and Britain in combatting famine throughout the world. He said the rejection was based on the contention that the appeal came too late.

(The official said this was taken to mean that Russia maintained her previous commitments prevented her from fulfilling the White House request.)

MacDuffie said the drouth threat was so immediate that the grain crop for the Ukraine—an area more than twice the size of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania—might be less than half the 1940 total, unless there was rain within a week or two.

He said the outlook was good until two weeks ago when it was estimated the crop would be 75 per cent of the 1940 total. Since that time, however, the picture has changed entirely.

The drouth has affected all kinds of crops, the U.N.R.R.A. official said, and the livestock and poultry situation is serious.

One of the most alarming aspects, he said, is that there are no stockpiles of grain in the Ukraine and there is an acute shortage of seeds for all crops.

MacDuffie, who established the mission's headquarters in Kiev March 20, came to Moscow for a brief visit. Commenting on the extent of war damage, he said he had been "most places in Europe and never have seen anything except in Warsaw worse damage than the Ukraine."

"What U.N.R.R.A. is distribut-

Unusual Costumes and Heirlooms Will Be Featured at Victorian Tea and Garden Party

The Victorian Tea being sponsored by the Ulster Garden Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Katharine Hasbrouck in Stone Ridge will be a unique affair. The setting at the former home of the garden will recall many happy occasions to hundreds of Ulster county people.

Added to that will be the chance of seeing a tea table set with silver, china and silver, heirlooms from several county homes presided over by a group of young women dressed in exquisite Victorian costumes also loaned by county families. Music will be played on the harp by Miss Helen Seddon.

Court Costumes

Among the most unusual of the costumes worn at the court of King Edward VI at England by Mr. Francis H. Leggett and Mrs. Leggett of Stone Ridge, N.Y., will be a dress worn by the late Mrs. Augustus Schoonmaker, mother of the late Mrs. William Lawton of this city. Miss Mary Johnson of the late Mrs. Leggett of Stone Ridge, N.Y., will wear the dress. The dress is a masterpiece of the late Mrs. Leggett of Stone Ridge, N.Y., and is a masterpiece of the late Mrs. Leggett of Stone Ridge, N.Y.

The room was decorated with white streamers. An umbrella, decorated with pink and white, hung from the ceiling. The chair for the guest of honor was also decorated in white and pink.

A chandelier spread was given to Miss Scribner by her employer and employees. She also received a number of other gifts.

Those present were the Misses Marion Wilson, Mary Bruck, Rosemary Nelson, Angela Badalamenti, Jean Winkelman, Betty Wagner, Jean Silkworth, Margarette Schoonmaker, Mrs. Fred Elwyn, Mrs. John Larkin, Mrs. Leo Slick, Mrs. Harold Reed, Mrs. Helen Edgerton, Mrs. Cecil Kimbark, Mrs. Mrs. L. W. Reynolds, Mrs. Louise M. Donnell and Mrs. Martha Collins.

The bride is a graduate of Beacon schools and works at the Beacon Manufacturing Co. in Beacon. Recently discharged after 3½ years of army service, Mr. Cwili served overseas with the 101st Airborne Division. He attended schools in Newburgh and Kingston.

New Paltz Graduate Engaged

New Paltz, May 18.—Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wells, 49 North Union street, Poughkeepsie, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ethel Wells, to Henry Figa, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Andrew Gemany, Maryland.

Miss Wells, a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers College, entered the W.A.V.E.S. in March, 1945, and received her discharge November 20, 1945. She is employed as secretary to an engineering concern in Washington. Mr. Gemany is a graduate of St. Michael's High School, St. Michaels, Maryland. After serving three years in the army in England with the 1st Air Force he was discharged in September, 1945. At present he is employed by the Rose Indemnity Co., Washington.

Contemporary Work

Something different from anything sung at former concerts is the surrealistic music of "Prologue" by William Schuman. Featured on the program is the piece as an "outstanding example of the trend in style by contemporary choral composers." Attacks with quick shadings to almost a whisper are notable in producing emphasis.

Five of the soloists sang last night with Miss Valerie Beam, soprano, outstanding with her interpretation of "Danny Boy." Some of the other solos demanded more of the singers. They were "Richard Baker, tenor, who sang, 'Ah, Moon of My Delight,' Lehmann; Herman Schwenk, 'Shepherd, See Thy Horses Foaming Mane,' speaks; Miss Patricia Keefe, soprano, 'The Valley of Laughter,' Sanderson; and Miss Katherine Sweney, contralto, 'Joy Is in My Heart,' Perry. Miss Ruth Buckenagen accompanied the soloists.

Tonight five other soloists will sing: Miss Elizabeth Sherman, Floyd Vogt, James Halbert, Miss Elizabeth LaTour and Miss Gretchen Bence. Alternating the groups of soloists was necessary this year because of the extra organ numbers.

Choir Gives Annual Concert With Organ As Main Feature

The annual A Cappella Choir concert at Kingston High School has become to many Kingston people a requisite part of the concert season. This year should be no exception with the choir doing a number of favorites from other concerts, and, of course, the debut of the Hammond organ. Fortunately for those who were unable to attend last night's performance, the concert will be repeated tonight at 8:15 in the high school auditorium.

The choir which is under the direction of Leonard Stine contains 85 voices with several of the returned service men who are attending high school, in the chorus. The parts are quite evenly divided in tone quality this year, and give an impressive performance as they sing the various types of compositions.

Hammond Organ

Naturally, the main attraction is the Hammond organ presented to the school by the choir through funds raised from the annual concert since 1941. Zelma Teague Johnson of New York demonstrates the possibilities of the instrument with two groups of selections showing the range, tone and capability of playing rapid passages. Although producing many tones of distinct beauty and dignity, the electric organ neither is expected to nor does produce tones that can match those of a fine pipe organ. This is most noticeable in "Bells of Aberdour" by Stewart, in which Miss Johnson endeavors to show the Hammond organ's certainty as an asset to the school's music department.

Organ and piano accompaniments are used in the final group sung by the choir. Robert Wolfenstein and Bruce Decker alternate at the organ both doing fine work. Because of installation difficulties, they were only able to rehearse this last week. The tones of the organ last night blended with the voices best in "The Lord's Prayer" by Sullivan and "The Lord's Prayer" by Sullivan.

Brides-Elect

At Mrs. James O. Winston's Colonial ball.

Some of the other Ulster county residents who will loan their beautiful old gowns for the occasion will be Mrs. William A. Warren of Hurley, Mrs. William C. Shafer of Kingston, Miss Margaret Rising and Mrs. John G. Myers of Hilton of Saugerties, and Miss Clark of Stone Ridge.

Those who will wear the gowns and act as hostesses are Mrs. Herbert Lloyd Schultz, Mrs. Bertrand Davis, Mrs. William Hasbrouck, Jr., Mrs. Preston Hasbrouck, Mrs. Anderson Carl, Mrs. Robert Herzog, Mrs. Louis Hurley, Mrs. N. Jansen Fowler, Mrs. Bruce Van Gaasbeek, Mrs. William Darling, Mrs. J. Dean Dykstra, Mrs. Lloyd Newcombe, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Miss Phyllis Eitel, Mrs. William Hilton and Mrs. John James of New York city, a guest of Mrs. Robert Herzog, and Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker.

The Garden Party will be open to the public from 2 to 6 p. m. Admission will include tea and there will be plants and other articles for sale. The Garden Club will use funds from this party to further the work of developing the grounds around the Senate House.

The choir also opens the program with a group of sacred numbers, the most inspirational and harmonious is "The Creation" by Willys Richter. Probably the most popular is the second group with the dedication to music and life in "The Music of Life" by Noble Cain; the serenely beautiful "Angeline Laurie" arranged by Geoffrey O'Hara and the popular spiritual, "Joshua Fit de Battle ob Jericho," arranged by Noble Cain.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

INCORRECT USAGE OF NAMES

Although many mistakes are made in the proper use of names, the following letter has more than the normal quota: "My doctor has three women assistants. He calls them by first names and they sometimes call him 'John' and sometimes when referring to him they say 'The Doctor.' One day he explained to me that they were like one big family. A friend of mine goes to this same doctor and she began calling the women 'Miss Elizabeth' and 'Miss Isabel,' etc. The doctor she calls 'Dr. Brown.' After that one day, one of the women asked my friend to call her 'Elizabeth' instead of 'Miss Elizabeth.' My friend is not young and is rather formal anyway so she thinks it is too familiar. She has continued to say 'Miss Elizabeth' which I think is incorrect. What is your opinion?"

From the standpoint of good taste, the doctor and his nurses are leaving themselves open to criticism. Patients are expected to call him "Dr. Brown" or at least "Doctor" and his nurses, "Miss Smith" or "Miss Jones," not "Miss Elizabeth" or "Miss Isabel." That she should call his nurses by their first name is very bad form, but that they should call him "John" is unthinkable!

Thank-You Notes

Dear Mrs. Post: Is there ever an exception to the rule that a thank-you note, written personally by the bride, has to be sent in answer to every wedding present? Most of these were received when it was too late to answer before the wedding. Now that we are home from our wedding trip, I have had to go back to business. With fixing up the house and my "career," it is quite an appalling task to write 150 or more thank-you notes.

Answer: Sorry, no matter how irksome, it is absolutely necessary that you write a note to each (or at least make your verbal thanks emphatic). People in very deep mourning are forgiven readily for not writing notes of thanks but one who is supposed to have found happiness hardly can have an excuse for showing no appreciation for the generosity of her friends.

Introducing Frequent Speaker

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me how to introduce a speaker at our club who is a frequent guest and whom everyone knows because of this fact?

Answer: You say, "It gives me great pleasure to introduce again Mrs. Jones," etc.

Do you know the correct form for a thank-you letter? Send for Mrs. Post's leaflet, "Model Notes," in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 22, Kingston, New York 19, N. Y., and inclose a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Huetta Sonner Married

At Home of Her Mother

A quiet home wedding was solemnized in a double ring ceremony Sunday, May 12, when Miss Huetta Alberta Sonner of New York city, became the bride of William Thomas Moore, son of Mrs. Jennie Moore Smith of Walden. The ceremony was performed at 2 p. m. in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Sonner, 10 Pine street, by the Rev. Walter Baghurst of the Maybrook Baptist Church. A reception followed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Hugh A. Sonner, in the presence of the immediate families. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. McKelvey of Montgomery. The bride wore a light blue suit with alligator accessories and a corsage of red roses and lilies of the valley. Her matron of honor, the former Marguerite Owen, wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside on the farm of John Walk where Mr. Moore is employed.

Third Ward Tablet Will Remain at Same Locale

At a meeting recently of the Third Ward Service Tablet Committee, which includes the former Air Raid Sector Wardens, it was voted to retain the tablet at its present locale for the next year or so, instead of removing it to Hutton Park.

Those concerned with the tablet decided that it should remain at its present ideal location on the corner of Foxhall avenue and Prince street.

It was also suggested at the meeting that additional names be placed on the tablet, and that it be cleaned and the grass cut for Memorial Day. Names of men in service that belong on the tablet may be given to Clarence Hyde, telephone 4329-J.

Anyone who would like to help put the tablet and site in condition for Memorial Day is asked to report with the committee on Monday evening.

Lawrence Quilty Marries Leola Saddlemire Before Nuptial Mass at St. Mary's Church

St. Mary's Church was the setting this morning for the wedding of Miss Leola Saddlemire, 39 West Chestnut street, daughter of the late Mrs. Marjorie D. Saddlemire, to Lawrence Adrian Quilty, son of Mrs. Dennis A. Quilty, 817 Washington avenue, and the late Mr. Quilty. The marriage was performed before a Nuptial Mass at 10 o'clock by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Stanley, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, New York city.

Miss Anna Goldrick, cousin of the bride, was organist. Martin Kelly sang, "O Salutaris" by Weegand; "Panis Angelicus" by Cesar Franck and "Ave Verum." The altar was decorated with white gladioli, stocks, and Easter lilies. Bouquets of the same flower marked the pews of the center aisle.

The bride was escorted by her uncle, James A. Dwyer. Her ivory satin bridal gown was made with long fitted bodice, and long sleeves. The sweetheart neckline was outlined with a sheer yoke of seed pearls. The full skirt terminated with a cathedral train and had a front tunic of heirloom rose point lace originally worn by the bride's mother. The bride's fingertip veil was attached to a rose point tiara and a scalloped modesty veil was applied with rose point medallions. She carried a cascade spray of white gladioli and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Mary Louise Saddlemire as maid of honor wore an ash of roses silk organza gown over a Nile green silk slip. The bodice and peplum were of matching rose lace and full Bishop sleeves of organza had ruffled lace cuffs. She wore a large picture hat of Nile green sheer broad banded and bowed in ashes of roses veiling. She carried a cascade spray of rose sweet peas with Nile green streamers.

Robert E. Coffey of Glen Cove, L. I., acted as best man. Ushers were Francis X. Egan, Harold T. Reis, Bernard J. Barogin and James J. Abernethy, all of this city.

The reception was canceled due to the recent death of the bridegroom's father. A wedding breakfast for the immediate families was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Quilty left for a motor trip to Canada. For traveling the bride chose a cherry red suit with brown accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Quilty will make their home at 89 Clinton avenue.

Both are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Quilty also is a graduate of Trinity College, Washington, D. C., and Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School. Mr. Quilty attended Boston College until his induction into the army. He recently returned from service and is now associated with the Walter Donnaruma Insurance Agency.

A patrol wagon isn't much of a car, but it'll do in a pinch.

Lawyer (demanding)—Are you positive that the prisoner is the man who stole your car?

She—Not out here in the country. It's hay fever, but the treatment is wonderful!

Henhawk Is Killed
By Sundown Dog

Blaine Wright of Napanoch, in Kingston for the Grand Jurors Association dinner this week, told a story of a dog that attacked and killed a large henhawk that had pounced upon a hen in the yard of a Sundown home recently.

The family of Louis Dupuy were eating their noonday meal when they saw the big hawk swoop down on a hen that had been scratching around in the yard nearby. They thought the hen was a goner, sure, but just as the hawk struck its prey, the dog, "Nippy," struck the hawk and killed it. The hen escaped serious damage.

Nippy had been lying near the porch and evidently saw the hawk as it swooped down. The hawk, intent on its victim, didn't see the dog, which probably was a lucky thing for Nippy.

The first capital of the state of New York was Kingston.

F. W. Richard Is

Petit Larceny, Hearing Is Adjourned in Court
Until Monday Morning

Fred W. Richard, 38, of 351 Broadway, was arrested on Pearl street at 2:40 o'clock this morning charged with petit larceny and public intoxication. Later he was sentenced to three days in the county jail on the intoxication charge, and a hearing on the petit larceny charge was set down for Monday morning by Judge Matthew V. Cahill in police court.

Richard, according to the police, had stolen a felt hat valued at $3.50 from the parked automobile owned by Anthony Rossi on Pearl street. Richard also had a brief case with him at the time of his arrest, but was unable to give a satisfactory explanation as to where he had gotten it.

Bomber Makes Test

Muroc, Calif., May 18 (AP)—The Army's first jet bomber, the XB-43, made its inaugural test flight yesterday above Muroc dry lake. Douglas Aircraft Company engineers said the plane will fly more than 100 miles an hour faster than the "Mustang," its conventional-powered sister ship that streaked across the nation last December in 17 hours, 17 minutes. The engineers said the jet bomber's top speed will be well above 500 m.p.h. Built for the Army's Air Materiel Command, the plane has a pressurized cabin, a service ceiling of 38,000 feet and normal range of 14,000 miles.

Deputies Are Appointed

Berlin, May 18 (AP)—Members of the Allied Control Authority's Coordinating Committee have appointed their deputies as a four-power disarmament commission to visit each of the four zones of Germany to inspect the progress of German disarmament. The commission, appointed last night on the suggestion of U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, includes Maj. Gen. C. L. Adcock of the American Army.

Says Armistice Revised

Rome, May 18 (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi told the Italian news agency ANSA today that the new Italian armistice, as revised by the Four-Power Foreign Ministers' Council in Paris for the first time officially recognizes Italy's co-belligerent status. Economic and financial modifications which will be negotiated by Italy, the United States and Britain, are included in the revised armistice. ANSA quoted de Gasperi as saying.

Cabinet Resigns

Amsterdam, May 18 (AP)—The Dutch cabinet tendered its resignation to Queen Wilhelmina today as final returns showed Premier William Schermerhorn's Socialist Party of Labor ran second to the middle-of-the-road Catholic Party in parliamentary elections yesterday.

Byrnes Will Report

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes returned from the Paris Foreign Ministers Conference today and announced that he would report to the nation Monday night.

8,000,000, according to Col. H. J. Lemley, statistician for the U. S. Armed Forces Division.

In addition to this, the British, in a recent report made to the Allied Control Council, disclosed they had bagged 2,663,000, while the French took another 35,000 German prisoners.

Thus, the Western Allies captured, or accepted the capture of, nearly 60 per cent of the German army. Lemley pointed out, however, that many thousands of German soldiers fled westward into Allied captivity rather than surrender to the Russians.

There is no accurate figure on the number of German soldiers killed. The Wehrmacht's known dead, according to American records, total more than 2,250,000, with another 1,500,000 missing.

This figure, however, is incomplete for several reasons. When the Americans captured the German Registration Bureau, they found it had broken down in November, 1944, and it was behind by 1,000,000 deaths in its task of notifying the next of kin. Furthermore the bureau could not supply an official estimate of German losses on the eastern front.

The bureau's file on eastern front casualties was sketchy, gathered from scattered sources, because the Russians did not report them through the International Red Cross.

at least a month before the effects of the revision of policy could be determined. Meanwhile, he said, county producers and dealers viewed with growing alarm the possible defection of other large dairies, especially in the summer months when New York city will make heavy demands on supplies normally diverted to Kingston.

"We can't afford to lose many more big producers," a prominent local dealer observed. "If the campaign to win back some of the dairies doesn't work, we may be in a tough spot later in the summer. The responsibility is pretty heavy on both sides and I hope that the new policy will be acceptable to everyone concerned."

"I hope the differences between the milk inspector's office and the producers have been straightened out. If both sides adhere faithfully to the new rules, we can avert a milk shortage in Kingston."

Army to Spend Million

Albuquerque, N. M., May 18 (AP)—War Department directives for $1,000,000 additional construction at the White Sands Proving Grounds, southeastern New Mexico site of German V-2 rocket tests, were received today by the District U. S. Engineer. Last week during first tests of the V-2 rockets, the War Department hinted it was planning to build rockets weighing 150 tons, nearly a dozen times the size of the V-2. The formal announcement of the expansion gave no idea of its purpose.

California Miner
Trapped in Shaft

Desert Center, Calif., May 18 (AP)—Miner friends of Harold Goode, 35-year-old magnesite miner trapped or buried since Thursday in Old Mission mine when a shaft collapsed 300 feet underground, continued feverish efforts today to reach him.

It was not known what chance there was for rescue because miners did not know how far down Goode had been trapped when muck gave way under the shaft. Sheriff's deputies said the workmen held little hope he would be alive.

Goode is unmarried. The mine, operated by the Nevada Magnesite Company, is located in the isolated Pinto Basin area north of here.

Hairdressers to Join
State, National Bodies

At a largely attended meeting of the Ulster-Greene County Hairdressers Association in the municipal building, Saugerties, this week, the organization voted to affiliate with the New York State and National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Mrs. John A. Martin of Saugerties, secretary of the Ulster-Greene Association reported many new members signed in the organization, which she said "is well on its way to its goal for the betterment and improvement of those engaged in the profession."

Shop owners were present from Catskill, New Paltz, Kingston, Port Ewen, Rosendale, Tannersville, Athens, Glasco and Saugerties.

Draft Lists Are Called

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Selective service boards began calling their lists of childless men 26 through 29 years old today to meet the service manpower pinch resulting from a congressional ban on teen-age inductions. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the selective service director, told the boards to call up for pre-induction physical examinations men in the late-20 bracket who "may qualify for military service under existing physical and occupational standards."

He directed that men who have been discharged from the armed forces and any with "manifest" physical disabilities be exempted from the call. The others may be classified 1-A unless they can obtain occupational deferment.

Commission Is at Tabriz

Tehran, May 18 (AP)—An Iranian central government commission reached Tabriz, capital of the self-proclaimed autonomous government of Azerbaijan province, by plane yesterday to investigate the withdrawal of Soviet troops. The commission also is expected to renew talks with separatist leaders relative to return of Azerbaijan province to central government control. The same plane carried Joseph C. Goodwin, Associated Press correspondent, the first American newspaperman to be allowed to enter Azerbaijan during the four years of Soviet occupation and six months of separatist rule.

Ukraine Drouth

President Truman said that Russia work with the United States and Britain in combatting famine throughout the world. He said the rejection was based on the contention that the appeal came too late.

(The official said this was taken to mean that Russia maintained her previous commitments prevented her from fulfilling the White House request.)

MacDuffie said the drouth threat was so immediate that the grain crop for the Ukraine—an area more than twice the size of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania—might be less than half the 1940 total, unless there was rain within a week or two.

He said the outlook was good until two weeks ago when it was estimated the crop would be 75 per cent of the 1940 total. Since that time, however, the picture has changed.

The drouth has affected all kinds of crops, the U.N.R.R.A. official

Showdown Hour Is Near on Rail Halt

made his appeal to trainmen to stay on the job. He gave the job of operating the roads to O.D.T. and canceled his plans for leaving the capital to be on hand for developments.

O.D.T. Director J. Monroe Johnson appointed Charles H. Buford, executive vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, as federal manager for the seized roads.

Buford announced that no immediate curtailment was planned in rail traffic and said, barring some further developments, there will be no inconvenience to the public in travel or shipping.

Moves Met With Silence

Union chiefs met these moves with silence. A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, and Alvan Johnson, president of the Engineers Brotherhood, remained in Washington for several hours after word had been received that night for Cleveland. Their final word then was they had nothing to add to their previous announcement that the strike would go on as scheduled.

Mr. Truman acted under his war powers in ordering the seizure and continued operation of the carriers as essential to the "war effort." Use of these powers was possible because the nation is legally still at war.

The President said that "governmental seizure is imperative for the protection of the rights of our citizens."

O.D.T. Chief Johnson told a later news conference if the trainmen reject Mr. Truman's appeal and quit, "there will be a very perilous time in transportation."

He could imagine no greater disaster to the country, he said, than would happen "if the railroads stop running."

O.D.T. was empowered by the seizure order to call on the War Department for protection of railway employees, and for any manpower or equipment deemed necessary, but Johnson said the possibility of troop guards on trains depended on developments.

Buford subsequently told reporters he contemplated no use of the military in running the trains.

337 Carriers Under Orders

The seizure placed 337 carriers under Buford's orders, and while only 250,000 workers are directly involved in the strike call, their walkout would affect some 1,400,000 additional employees in the nation's rail system.

Then Engineers and Trainmen, who are two of the "Big Five" Railroad Brotherhoods, issued their strike call a month ago after wage increase negotiations broke down with the railroad operators.

The three other operating Brotherhoods—Conductors, Firemen and Switchmen—are not involved in the walkout, although they too have been seeking wage increases and adjustments in working conditions from the carriers.

Throughout developments, there were only scant references to the legal questions which might arise if the Brotherhoods refused to work for the government.

Whitney touched on the subject before he and Johnson conferred with Mr. Truman yesterday and witnessed the signing of the seizure order.

"We'll keep our mouths shut if the roads are taken over by the government," he said.

"We'll abide by the Smith-Connelly (Labor Disputes) Act, and all you've got to do is to keep your mouth closed. The Smith-Connelly Act is not in effect now."

Whitney took the position that the act's penalties in the case of a strike in a government-seized facility do not operate unless the walkout order is issued after the actual seizure.

However, Mr. Truman's executive order for the seizure listed the Smith-Connelly Act among the laws empowering him to act.

Mails Are An Issue

Another question still in the background was the movement of U. S. mails in the event the trainmen and engineers respond effectively to the strike call.

At Cleveland, brotherhood officials who requested anonymity, said that so far as the legal right to strike is concerned there is no difference between a mail train and any other train. Members accordingly had received instructions, said, that they could refuse to work on a mail train as on any other.

The question of movement of the mails figured once before in an American industrial dispute, but under a different set of circumstances. That was in the celebrated Pullman strike in 1894 when President Grover Cleveland used troops to clear the way for mail trains through Chicago.

D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, said 25,000 members of his union planned to stay on the job on 163 railroads.

There was a question, however, whether Interstate Commerce Commission rules would permit them to man the trains if yard men were not on duty.

men and firemen—because of laws governing use of complete train crews.

Against 348 Roads

The strike call originally was issued against 348 railroads and terminals in the United States. The Illinois Central and 27 small belt and feeder lines have been exempt from the strike. The Illinois Central went under government supervision months ago. "Stand by" agreements covering the 27 smaller roads provide that they will grant brotherhoods any benefits resulting from negotiations with the larger lines. However, if the main lines aren't working there won't be much for the 27 to do.

Local Death Record

Jasper Logan Archibald, brother of W. P. Archibald of 201 Washington avenue, died suddenly Friday morning in his home in Waukesha, Wis.

The funeral of Peter J. infant son of Mrs. Nellie Hasbrouck who died Thursday after a short illness, was held from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Sadie V. Dittus of 63 German street, died this morning following a long illness. Surviving are her husband Henry L. Dittus, two sons, Edward M. and Arthur H., one daughter Dolores M. Dittus, one sister, Mrs. Joseph Moore, and two grandchildren all of this city. Mrs. Dittus had been a lifelong resident of this city. Funeral will be held at the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Peter's Church at 9:30 o'clock where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends are invited to call at the parlors and to attend the funeral. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

The funeral of Walter E. Hyatt, for many years an employee of the city's water department, was held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the parlors of A. Carr & Son on Pearl street. The services were largely attended, and the casket was banked with flowers. The Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, officiated. Thursday evening the Odd Fellows called at the parlors and held ritualistic services, and the official board of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church and the Men's Club also held a short service. Employees of The Freeman, the water department, representatives of the police department, and Mrs. Hyatt's Sunday school class called at the parlors. During the services yesterday Vernon S. Miller sang "Going Home." Burial was in the Woodstock cemetery. The bearers were John H. Carr, Harry A. A. Miner, Myron M. DePuy, C. Lester Legg, John Cramer and William Grothkopp.

Publication Is Suspended

Philadelphia, May 18 (AP)—For the second time since it was established in 1829, the Philadelphia Inquirer failed to publish today as a strike of the city's newspaper delivery truck drivers entered its third day. An Inquirer spokesman, who preferred anonymity, said publication of the paper was suspended because of the absence of streetvenders who, he said, apparently declined to cross picket lines set up by the truck drivers. The Inquirer failed to publish July 3, 1937, because of a citywide strike of truck drivers in which the paper was not involved, the spokesman said.

Central Isn't Sure

Albany, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—The New York Central railroad does not know whether its trains en route at the start of the scheduled rail strike (4 p. m. E.S.T.) will complete their runs. K. A. Borntrager, superintendent of the Mohawk-Hudson Division, said today that "we are not too positive" whether the crews will abandon such trains upon reaching divisional points, such as Albany and Syracuse, or whether they will man the trains to the end of the scheduled runs.

$409,000 BOND?

Harry H. Brown, 60, of Tecumseh, Kas., examines the $100 Kansas Territory bond bought by his grandfather in 1839 and which his attorney says may be worth $409,000 because it bore 10 per cent compound interest. The bond, which belongs to Brown and his sister, Mrs. Edith Wood of Houston, Tex., bears an 1865 maturity date. (AP Wirephoto).

Saugerties Legion Can't Get Flags for Graves

Saugerties, May 18—Commander Peter Williams of Lamoree-Hackett Post, American Legion, has announced that because of the inavailability of American flags, veterans' graves will go undecorated on Memorial Day.

"We have contacted every known manufacturer of flags including National American Legion Headquarters, and have been informed that their source of supplies are entirely exhausted," Commander Williams reports. "We have been informed," he continues, "by each of our national sources of supply that the O.P.A. regulations have made it impossible for the manufacturer to obtain materials and consequently could not fill our needs."

Council Studies Problem

New York, May 18 (AP)—Security Council delegations puzzled today over the course they may take concerning Russia in the event Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala reports on Monday that Soviet troops remain in Iran or that interference continues in Azerbaijan province. If Ala's report on Russian troop evacuation is unsatisfactory or inconclusive—as he fears how it will be—then the council, in his opinion, would feel obliged to keep the Iranian issue on the agenda. The Council will reassemble some time early next week to receive the Iranian report and there were routine indications that the session would be boycotted by Russia.

New Approach Advocated

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Republicans advocated a new Senate approach today in any legislation outlawing employer-financed welfare funds of the type demanded by John L. Lewis in the soft coal strike. They argued the Senate should make it clear it favored establishment of what they termed well-regulated health and welfare funds in industry, as distinguished from the union-controlled type fund sought by Lewis.

Firemen Are Overcome

New York, May 18 (AP)—Two firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting a fire late last night in the basement of a curtain shop at 1400 Ogden avenue, The Bronx. The firemen, William Gillen, 42, of 272 E. 237th street, and Charles J. Orth, 49, of 1431 University avenue, The Bronx, were treated at their company headquarters. The fire, of undetermined origin, did little damage.

Patients Get Present

Columbus, O., May 18 (AP)—Patients of the late Dr. Herman L. Harris who owed him money received a present today by the terms of his will filed in probate court. "None of the accounts due me from my patients shall ever be collected or considered assets of my estate," the physician specified. Dr. Harris, who died last December 15, left an estate valued at $23,810.

Tried Frighten U. S.

Nuernberg, May 18 (AP)—Grand Adm. Erich Raeder testified before the International Military Tribunal today that Germany urged Japan early in 1941 to capture Singapore, in the belief that this would frighten the United States into remaining neutral. The German proposition was made by Adolf Hitler at a conference in Berlin March 5, 1941, with Yosuke Matsuoka, then Japanese foreign minister, Raeder said. He added that Hitler issued a statement later that day to the effect that Japan would take such a step.

Game Is Postponed

New York, May 18 (AP)—Postponement of the American League baseball game at Cleveland with Washington today, allowing the Senators to train for tomorrow's twin bill at Chicago, was baseball's most positive action in preparation for the scheduled railroad strike. By calling off the afternoon contest, the Senators were able to start for Chicago well before the deadline of 4 p. m. (Local Standard Time) at which the walkout is scheduled.

Slam 1199 Doubles
In A.B.C. Tourney

The doubles team of Fred Rice and George Robinson came out of the annual American Bowling Tournament at Buffalo this week with a sizzling total of 1199 which will definitely place in the money.

A.B.C. officials said earlier that all doubles teams scoring 1108 or better would receive cash awards. Rice was high in the doubles with his string of 195, 225 and 202 for a 622 while Robinson blasted 193, 193 and 191 for a 577.

Charlie Gruenwald and Gil Sampson put together a 1073 doubles score with Gruenwald's single of 233 taking high honors. Cliff Quick and Larry Hynes rolled a 1035 doubles, Larry Weishaupt and John MacLellan posted 915 while Tony LaRocca and Johnny "Red" Sangi hit 858.

As far as could be learned Rice and Robinson were the lone keepers to hit the money at Buffalo.

In singles events Cliff Quick and Hynes hit 559 scores. An A.B.C. release announced that singles competitors hitting 567 or better would take cash. Fred Rice came through with a 547 while Sampson totaled 544.

Local keepers also failed to hit the money bracket in the all-events. Fred Rice achieved the highest score with his 1656. Other results were: Quick 1628, Hynes 1604, Robinson 1591, Gruenwald 1572, Sampson 1552, MacLellan 1502, Sangi 1500, LaRocca 1399 and Weishaupt 1377.

In the team events the Adirondack Trailways put together a five-man total of 2501 with John MacLellan leading the way with his 539 series. Van Kleeks also failed to hit the money at Buffalo with a 2457 total.

Charlie Gruenwald's string of 573, 588 and 570 gave him a 1731 total in the all-events classification at the annual state tournament at Rochester. John Sangi was next with 1709. Other all-events scores were Robinson 1699, Rice 1640, Sampson 1614, Weishaupt 1503, MacLellan 1641 and LaRocca 1511.

Tony LaRocca and Johnny Sangi, paced by the latter's 606, scored an 1105 in the state doubles followed by Gruenwald and Sampson who combined to whip out an 1100 total. Robinson and Rice, high in the national tourney, scored 1078 at Rochester. Weishaupt and MacLellan scored 1085.

Sangi also paced the singles at Rochester with a 597 on his 177, 226 and 194. Sampson blasted 203, 190 and 187 for 580. Gruenwald posted 570, Robinson 552, Rice 532, MacLellan 532, Weishaupt 502 and LaRocca 490.

Local Club to Engage Arlington Team at Municipal Stadium;
Starts at 2:30

Sunday baseball makes its 1946 debut at the municipal stadium tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when Manager Jim Freleigh trots out his Gov. Clinton club in the opening game of the Mid-Hudson Baseball League. The Clintons will engage the Ferris Tavern club of Arlington in what promises to be a "natural" for opening day.

Alderman-at-large John J. Schenck will help the local representatives of the valley league open the season by throwing out the first ball. Other pre-game ceremonies are tentatively scheduled.

Tomorrow's contest is the first start for the Gov. Clintons in the newly-organized valley circuit which is sanctioned by the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress.

"We're endeavoring to give Kingston players a decided improvement in the field events after Newburgh's huskies had handed the locals a 74½-38½ setback in the Hill City May 3. This week, the Klammen came through in fine style again, although two events, the discus and the javelin throw were not held.

Bob Wisneski finally hit his pre-season form in the shot put yesterday winning with a neat 41 foot, 5.3 inch throw. Wisneski, all-DUSO tackle last fall, was looked upon as a big gun for the locals in this event.

Frank Dolan, who broke the Maroon record for the 440 last week, ran a stroke race Friday but still came through with a 5:20 time. Dolan did 51.5 at Cornwall, five seconds better than the previous Kingston record. However, a wet track held him to 55 seconds in Poughkeepsie, but this was good enough to add another first place.

Kingston's sprinters did not fare so well yesterday. Billy Blume took first in the 100 yard dash, but was beaten out by Havens in the 220. Ken Whispell, Maroon ace of last season, had to be content with a third in the 220.

Appropriate pre-game ceremonies will mark the return of the Recs in this Memorial Night attraction.

"We're bringing in the Chance Vought team for this debut tilt," the spokesman of the local team said this morning. "In view of last year's games when the Stratford outfit proved to be very popular with local fandom."

Cubans, Homesteads Follow
Following the first home game, the famous New York Cubans at the famous ball park Saturday night, June 1. The following Wednesday, June 5, Josh Gibson and the outstanding Homestead Grays of New York will be here for the third game.

The Chance Vought club will bring a host of former major league players who saw service in the big time before the war. Their lineup includes Jimmy Carneal in centerfield who is the property of the Detroit Tigers; Chick Lubas, shortstop; Johnny Michaels, formerly of the Boston Red Sox, who will play first base; Andy Caginalo, second base; Jerry Pepper, ex-Fordham Ram and Cleveland Indian player, who will cavort at third base; Buddy Nash, formerly of the Phillies and Browns, who is listed as a left fielder; Pres Baker in rightfield and Jimmy Noonan, catcher. Baker played with Providence and Albany while Noonan has seen service with Manchester.

The Stratford pitching staff includes the whippersnapper Fezzullo, former ace hurler with the Philadelphia Phils of the National League; "Buster" Dobbs, Cardinal hurler, and Wilbur Robinson, erstwhile finger with Nashville of the Southern Association. A burning mattress on a bed in the second floor apartment at 34 East Strand, was extinguished by the fire department at 8:24 o'clock this morning. The firemen had responded to a still alarm.

Fire officials said that the probable cause of the fire was from a spark from a cigarette. The apartment, they said, was vacant. The fire was confined to the mattress. The ground floor of the building houses the Hiltbrand retail liquor store.

Shot Put Throw

With Eddie McCordle snapping his own record in the half mile, Kingston High School's track squad swept on to its second victory of the season Friday afternoon in Poughkeepsie, by 62½-32½ over the Blue trackmen. McCordle won the half-mile race in the time of 2:01.03 to lower his last week's time of 2:05.4.

The locals took first place in every event except one, the 220 which Joe Havens won in the time of 25 seconds. Havens defeated the Maroon baseball team earlier in the week. Although Ed Weaver tied with Bob Freer of the Bridge City squad for first place in the high jump, the forces of G. Warren Kias went on to make one of their best showings of the season.

Big Improvement
Kingston's 82-31 win over N.Y.M.A. at Cornwall last Saturday showed a decided improvement in the field events after Newburgh's huskies had handed the locals a 74½-38½ setback in the Hill City May 3. This week, the Klammen came through in fine style again, although two events, the discus and the javelin throw were not held.

Bob Wisneski finally hit his pre-season form in the shot put yesterday winning with a neat 41 foot, 5.3 inch throw. Wisneski, all-DUSO tackle last fall, was looked upon as a big gun for the locals in this event.

Frank Dolan, who broke the Maroon record for the 440 last week, ran a stroke race Friday but still came through with a 5:20 time. Dolan did 51.5 at Cornwall, five seconds better than the previous Kingston record. However, a wet track held him to 55 seconds in Poughkeepsie, but this was good enough to add another first place.

Kingston's sprinters did not fare so well yesterday. Billy Blume took first in the 100 yard dash, but was beaten out by Havens in the 220. Ken Whispell, Maroon ace of last season, had to be content with a third in the 220.

Losses First Relay
The Maroon relay team lost its first race of the year yesterday with the Poughkeepsie team scoring in 140.8 seconds. The Kings foursome of Bill Blume, Ken Whispell, Trombly and Jerry Smith couldn't match the Blue four and dropped a close race.

Eddie Ward improved his time in the mile over that of last week although he did not equal the 4:56 race he ran in Newburgh. Ward capped yesterday's mile run in 4:58.4 which is much better than his 5:02 of last week. George Lierly took second place in 5:04.1.

Ward for first last week. McCordle's record came as the result of a terrifically run race. Eddie had a wet track to compete with all the way but finished ahead of his nearest competitor, Dick Van Bramer of Kingston, by several yards. Maroon fans are looking for big things from Eddie in the DUSO meet at Middletown June 1.

Friday Afternoon

Kingston Takes First Place in All Events Except
220; Wisneski Cops
Shot Put Throw

With Eddie McCordle snapping his own record in the half mile, Kingston High School's track squad swept on to its second victory of the season Friday afternoon in Poughkeepsie, by 62½-32½ over the Blue trackmen. McCordle won the half-mile race in the time of 2:01.03 to lower his last week's time of 2:05.4.

The locals took first place in every event except one, the 220 which Joe Havens won in the time of 25 seconds. Havens defeated the Maroon baseball team earlier in the week. Although Ed Weaver tied with Bob Freer of the Bridge City squad for first place in the high jump, the forces of G. Warren Kias went on to make one of their best showings of the season.

Big Improvement
Kingston's 82-31 win over N.Y.M.A. at Cornwall last Saturday showed a decided improvement in the field events after Newburgh's huskies had handed the locals a 74½-38½ setback in the Hill City May 3. This week, the Klammen came through in fine style again, although two events, the discus and the javelin throw were not held.

Bob Wisneski finally hit his pre-season form in the shot put yesterday winning with a neat 41 foot, 5.3 inch throw. Wisneski, all-DUSO tackle last fall, was looked upon as a big gun for the locals in this event.

Rube Waddell's Strikeout
Mark Threatened by Feller

Indian Ace Has Fanned
85 in 71 Innings;
Whiffs 14 Nats
in 3-0 Victory

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

At the rate Blazing Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians has been setting the American League batters down on strikes this season, the mid-western meteor should better the modern major league record of 343 strikeouts in one season, with plenty to spare.

It was back in 1904 that eccentric Rube Waddell set the standard while pitching for the Philadelphia Athletics and it has defied the mighty arms of big Ed Walsh, Walter Johnson, Smokey Joe Wood, Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Lefty Grove, Dizzy Vance, Dizzy Dean and other renowned strike-out artists for more than 40 years.

261 High for Feller
Johnson, who fanned more batters than any other pitcher during his long league career, came closest to the mark when he whiffed 313 in 1910. The highest figure Feller ever reached in his five complete and two part-time seasons was 261 in 43 games in 1938.

The Van Meter, Iowa, speedster fanned 14 Nats yesterday in pitching the Indians to a 3-0 victory in the opener of a doubleheader with Washington, to raise his eight-game total to 85 in 71 innings.

With 127 games remaining on the Tribe's schedule, Feller, taking his regular turn every fourth day, should appear in 32 more contests. Should Bob continue at his current gait of 10½ strikeouts per game, he will rack up the amazing total of 431, far exceeding the record of Charles (Hoss) Davenport who holds the all-time mark of 411 established with Providence in 1884.

In registering his fifth triumph and his third via the shutout route, Feller gained an even split for the Indians. The Nats pounded Joe Krasauskas for nine hits to win the second game, halted by darkness at the end of eight innings, 9-4.

Dodgers Regain First
Feller's performance stole some of the spotlight from Brooklyn's Dazzling Dodgers who regained first place in the National League for the third time when they clubbed the Pittsburgh Pirates to their fifth straight defeat, 16-6. The St. Louis Cardinals fell to second place by losing to Boston's Braves.

With 37 players taking part in the most ragged game played at Ebbets' Field in years, the Brooks took advantage of eight walks by six Duke hurlers and six Pirate errors in addition to pounding out 16 safeties and stealing five bases to earn the one-sided decision. A seven-run sixth inning clinched matters for the Dodgers.

Pitcher Johnny Sain and Right Fielder Tommy Holmes collaborated to whip St. Louis 4-1, and knock the Redbirds out of the league lead. Sain chalked up his fourth victory, holding the Cards at bay in all but the fourth inning and limiting them to seven hits. Holmes rapped out two doubles and a single and drove in a pair of runs. The triumph elevated the Braves into third place.

Keller, Gumpert Pace Yanks
A two-run homer by Charlie Keller, his sixth of the season, and brilliant relief pitching by Randy Gumpert enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 4-2, and gain a half game on the American League leading Boston Red Sox who were rained out of their scheduled night affair with the St. Louis Browns. Gumpert relieved starter Joe Page in the fifth frame and gave up but three hits and no runs the rest of the way.

An error by Second Baseman Irv Hall set up a two-run eighth inning for Detroit and enabled Virgil Trucks and the Tigers to edge out the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-1. The Tigers made but five hits off loser Phil Marchildon while Trucks was compounded for eight.

Phils Drop Reds
Philadelphia's Phils dropped Cincinnati into the second division by upsetting the Reds, 4-2, under the lights. Rain forced a halt after six and a half innings had been played. Catcher Andy Seminick helped his batmate, Schoolboy Rowe, gain his first triumph since his return from the navy, when he homered with one on in the fourth and doubled in another tally in the sixth. Rowe prevented the New York Giants from meeting the Chicago Cubs under the lights.

Sign Four Tackles
New York, May 18 (AP)—The signing of four tackles was announced today by the New York Yankees of the All-American football conference. They are Jack Treadway, formerly of Hardin-Simmons; Vic Schleich, formerly of Nebraska; Harley McCollum, who played last year with the El Toro Marines, and Roman Bentz, who played one season with the Washington Redskins.

Pitches Perfect Game
Unionville, Conn., May 18 (AP)—Kenneth Rondeau, West Hartford junior high school pitcher, faced only 21 men yesterday as he pitched a seven-inning perfect, no-hit game against Unionville Junior high to win 2-0. He fanned 12.

made his appeal to trainmen to stay on the job. He gave the job of operating the roads to O.D.T., and canceled his plans for leaving the capital to be on hand for developments.

O.D.T. Director J. Monroe Johnson appointed Charles H. Buford, executive vice president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, as federal manager for the seized roads.

Buford announced that no immediate curtailment was planned in rail traffic and said, barring some further developments, there will be no inconvenience to the public in travel or shipping.

Moves Met With Silence

Union chiefs met these moves with silence. A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, and Alvan Johnston, president of the Engineers Brotherhood, remained in Washington for several hours afterward before departing last night for Cleveland. Their last word there was they had nothing to add to their previous announcement that the strike would go on as scheduled.

Mr. Truman acted under his war powers in ordering the seizure and continued operation of the carriers as essential to the "war effort." Use of these powers was possible because the nation is legally still at war.

The President said that "governmental seizure is imperative for the protection of the rights of our citizens."

O.D.T. Chief Johnson told a later news conference if the trainmen reject Mr. Truman's appeal and quit, "there will be a very serious time in transportation."

He could imagine no greater disaster to the country, he said, than would happen "if the railroads stop running."

O.D.T. was empowered by the seizure order to call on the War Department for protection of railway employees, and for any manpower or equipment deemed necessary, but Johnson said the possibility of troop guards on trains depended on developments.

Buford subsequently told reporters he contemplates no use of the military in running the trains.

337 Carriers Under Orders
The seizure placed 337 carriers under Buford's orders, and while only 250,000 workers are directly involved in the strike call, their walkout would affect some 1,400,000 additional employees in the nation's rail system.

Then Engineers and Trainmen, who are two of the "Big Five" Railroad Brotherhoods, issued their strike call a month ago after wage increase negotiations broke down with the railroad operators.

The three other operating Brotherhoods—Conductors, Firemen and Switchmen—are not involved in the walkout, although they too have been seeking wage increases and adjustments in working conditions from the carriers.

Throughout developments, there were only scant references to the legal questions which might arise from the government's seizure of the railroads.

Whitney touched on the subject before the seizure, when he met with Mr. Truman yesterday and witnessed the signing of the seizure order.

"We'll keep our mouths shut if the roads are taken over by the government," he said.

"We'll abide by the Smith-Connelly (Labor Disputes) Act, and all you've got to do is to keep your mouth closed. The Smith-Connelly Act is not in effect now."

Whitney took the position that the act's penalties in the case of a strike in a government-seized facility do not operate unless the walkout order is issued after the actual seizure.

However, Mr. Truman's executive order for the seizure listed the Smith-Connelly Act among the laws empowering him to act.

Mails Are An Issue

Another question still in the background was the movement of U. S. mails in the event the trainmen and engineers respond effectively to the strike call.

At Cleveland, brotherhood officials who requested anonymity said that so far as the legal right to strike is concerned there is no difference between a mail train and any other train. Members accordingly had received instructions, said, that they could refuse to work on a mail train as on any other.

The question of movement of the mails figured once before in an American industrial dispute, but under a different set of circumstances. That was in the celebrated Pullman strike in 1894 when President Grover Cleveland used troops to clear the way for mail trains through Chicago.

D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, said 25,000 members of his union planned to stay on the job on 159 railroads.

There was a question, however, whether Interstate Commerce Commission rules would permit them to man the trains if yard men were not on duty.

men and firemen—because of laws governing use of complete train crews.

Against 348 Roads

The strike call originally was issued against 348 railroads and terminals in the United States. The Illinois Central and 27 small belt and feeder lines have been exempt from the strike. The Illinois Central went under government supervision months ago. "Stand by" agreements covering the 27 smaller roads provide that they will grant brotherhoods any benefits resulting from negotiations with the larger lines. However, if the main lines aren't working there won't be much for the 27 to do.

Local Death Record

Jasper Logan Archibald, brother of W. P. Archibald of 201 Washington avenue, died suddenly Friday morning in his home in Waukesha, Wis.

The funeral of Peter J. infant son of Mrs. Nellie Hasbrouck who died Thursday after a short illness, was held from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery.

Mrs. Sadie V. Dittus of 63 German street, died early this morning following a long illness. Surviving are her husband Henry L. Dittus, two sons, Edward M. and Arthur H., one daughter Dolores M. Dittus, one sister, Mrs. Joseph Moore, and two grandchildren, all of this city. Mrs. Dittus had been a lifelong resident of this city.

Funeral will be held at the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Peter's Church at 9:30 o'clock where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Relatives and friends are invited to call at the parlors and to attend the funeral. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

The funeral of Walter E. Hyatt, for many years an employee of the city's water department, was held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the parlors of A. Carr & Son on Pearl street. The services were largely attended, and the casket was banked with flowers. The Rev. William R. Beckham, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, officiated. Thursday evening the Odd Fellows called at the parlors and held ritualistic services, and the official board of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church and the Men's Club also held a short service. Employees of The Freeman, the water department, representatives of the police and fire departments, and Mrs. Hyatt's Sunday school class called at the parlors. During the services yesterday Vernon S. Miller sang "Going Home." Burial was in the Woodstock cemetery. The bearers were John H. Garrison, Harley A. Minor, Myron M. DePuy, C. Lester Legg, John Cramer and William Grothkopp.

Publishing Is Suspended
Philadelphia, May 18 (AP)—For the second time since it was established in 1820, the Philadelphia Inquirer failed to publish today as a strike of the city's newspaper delivery truck drivers entered its third day. An Inquirer spokesman who preferred anonymity, said publication of the paper was suspended because of the absence of streetcars, who, he said, apparently declined to cross picket lines set up by the truck drivers. The Inquirer failed to publish July 3, 1937, because of a citywide strike of truck drivers in which the paper was not involved, the spokesman said.

Central Isn't Sure

Ann Arbor, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—The New York Central railroad does not know whether its trains can move at the start of the scheduled rail strike 14 p. m. E.S.T. and complete their runs. K. A. Borntrager, superintendent of the Mohawk Division, said today that "we are not too positive" whether the crews will abandon such trains upon reaching division points, such as Albany and Syracuse, or whether they will man the trains to the end of the scheduled runs.

$409,000 BOND?

Harry H. Brown, 60, of Tecumseh, Kas., examines the $100 Kansas Territory bond bought by his grandfather in 1859 and which his attorney says may be worth $409,000 because it bore 10 per cent compound interest. The bond, which belongs to Brown and his sister, Mrs. Edith Wood of Houston, Tex., bears an 1865 maturity date. (AP Wirephoto).

Saugerties Legion Can't Get Flags for Graves

Saugerties, May 18—Commander Peter Williams of Lamoreaux-Hackett Post, American Legion, has announced that because of the inavailability of American flags, "veterans' graves will go undecorated on Memorial Day."

"We have contacted every known manufacturer of flags including National American Legion Headquarters, and have been informed that their source of supplies are entirely exhausted," Commander Williams reports.

"We have been informed," he continues, "by each of our national sources of supply that the O.P.A. regulations have made it impossible for the manufacturer to obtain materials and consequently could not fill our needs."

The American Legion has been decorating graves for 27 years, but this year has to offer an apology to families of veterans in not being able to "fulfill our past patriotic gestures."

Council Studies Problem

New York, May 18 (AP)—Security Council delegations puzzled today over the course they may take concerning Russia in the event Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala reports on Monday that Soviet troops remain in Iran or that interference continues in Azerbaijan province. If Ala's report on Russian troop evacuation is unsatisfactory or inconclusive—as he fears how it will be—then the council, in his opinion, would feel obliged to keep the Iranian issue on the agenda. The Council will resume some time early next week to receive the Iranian report and there were routine indications that the session would be boycotted by Russia.

New Approach Advocated

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Republicans advocated a new Senate approach today in any legislation outlawing employer-financed welfare funds of the type demanded by John L. Lewis in the soft coal strike. They argued the Senate should make it clear it favored establishment of what they termed well-regulated health and welfare funds in industry, as distinguished from the union-controlled type fund sought by Lewis.

Tried Frighten U. S.

Nuernberg, May 18 (AP)—Grand Adm. Erich Raeder testified before the International Military Tribunal today that Germany urged Japan early in 1941 to capture Singapore, in the belief that this would frighten the United States into remaining neutral. The German proposition was made by Adolf Hitler at a conference in Berlin March 5, 1941, with Yosuke Matsuoka, then Japanese foreign minister, Raeder said. He added that Hitler issued a statement later that day to the effect that Japan would take such a step.
